

CapAir Travel Requirements & Restrictions

Purpose: This document serves as the official guide for the travel requirements and restrictions involved when flying with CapAir.

1. Traveler Documentation Requirements

All CapAir passengers are responsible for ensuring they have the correct travel documents before arriving at the airport. For domestic travel within the United States, adult passengers must present a valid, government-issued photo identification that matches the name on the reservation. CapAir should provide pre-trip reminders and digital document prompts so customers can verify requirements before check-in.

Passengers traveling internationally should review entry and return requirements for every country on their itinerary, including connection points. If a destination requires additional documentation, such as proof of onward travel, vaccination records, customs forms, or electronic travel authorization, the customer must provide those documents before boarding. CapAir may deny boarding when required documents are missing, expired, incomplete, or do not match the passenger's booking information.

2. Children, Infants, and Unaccompanied Minors

Children under the age of 18 traveling domestically with an adult may not always be required to present government-issued identification; however, CapAir should recommend that families carry proof of age, such as a birth certificate, passport, or other official documentation. For international travel, all children and infants must have the same required travel documents as adults, including passports and any required visas or destination-specific forms.

Infants under 2 years old may travel as lap children when permitted by fare rules and safety requirements. Only one lap infant may be assigned to each ticketed adult. Children age 2 and older must have their own ticketed seat. Families traveling with children should be encouraged to select seats together during booking, and CapAir should make reasonable efforts to seat children under 15 next to at least one accompanying adult when seats are available.

CapAir's unaccompanied minor service should be required for children ages 5 through 14 traveling without an adult and optional for travelers ages 15 through 17. The parent or guardian must provide drop-off and pick-up contact information, complete required forms, remain at the airport until departure, and ensure the receiving adult presents valid identification at arrival. Unaccompanied minors should only be permitted on eligible nonstop or approved direct flights to reduce connection-related risk.

3. Baggage and Security Restrictions

All passengers must comply with CapAir baggage rules, airport security requirements, and applicable government restrictions. Carry-on items must fit within the approved size limits and be safely stowed under the seat or in the overhead bin. Personal items must fit under the seat in front of the passenger. Checked baggage must meet CapAir's weight, size, and contents requirements before acceptance at the ticket counter or bag drop.

Restricted items include weapons, explosives, flammable materials, hazardous chemicals, compressed gases, and any item prohibited by airport security or destination regulations. Lithium batteries, medical equipment, mobility devices, and special sporting equipment may require additional review.

4. Pets and Service Animals

CapAir should allow eligible small cats and dogs to travel in the cabin when the pet fits comfortably in an approved carrier under the seat in front of the passenger. The pet must remain inside the carrier at the airport and throughout the flight. A pet carrier should count as the customer's carry-on item, and the passenger may bring only one additional personal item unless otherwise stated by CapAir policy.

In-cabin pet travel should be subject to route restrictions, aircraft space limitations, advance reservation requirements, and a fee of $125 per flight.

Fully trained service dogs should be permitted to travel in the cabin at no additional charge when they meet documentation, behavior, and safety requirements. Emotional support animals should not be treated as service animals unless required by applicable law. Service animals must remain under the handler's control, fit safely within the passenger's foot space, and not obstruct aisles, exits, or other passengers.

5. Health, Medical, and Accessibility Requirements

Passengers who require mobility assistance, medical devices, oxygen-related accommodations, or other accessibility support should notify CapAir as early as possible. Mobility devices and assistive equipment should be accepted in accordance with safety and aircraft storage requirements. Customers should not be charged standard baggage fees for approved assistive devices.

Passengers traveling with medication should keep essential medications in carry-on baggage whenever possible. Medical documentation may be requested when an item requires special handling, contains liquid quantities above standard security limits, or must remain with the passenger during flight.

6. Denied Boarding and Customer Responsibility

CapAir reserves the right to deny boarding or refuse transport when a passenger does not meet travel documentation, safety, check-in, baggage, pet, service animal, health, or destination-entry requirements. Customers are responsible for reviewing all requirements before travel and arriving at the airport with enough time to complete any required verification. CapAir should provide clear pre-travel communications, but final responsibility for compliance remains with the passenger.
